$1.6 Billion Budget Goal Of Scranton

Record High Fund Without Tax Hike, Report Indicates

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton will propose a record high $1,261,299,302 general fund spending program for the 1956-66 fiscal year without raising taxes, it was reported Monday night.

Details of the governor's third budget will be turned over to the Legislature this afternoon, but some of the figures were released after premature publication.

The total budget proposal, if approved by the politically divided Legislature, would run $89 million above the current $1.172 billion.

The new budget would be financed through estimated revenues of $1,200,300,000 from all sources and from a surplus of $61 million out of the current year's budget. It would leave a surplus next year of $4.208.

House Democrats insist the revenue surplus is even higher and have hinted that they, controlling the chamber, might try to pass legislation reducing some taxes.

The governor's new budget provides $32.6 million more for education, which already accounts for more than half the state's spending. Of the total, $27 million would go to local school districts and the other $5.6 million to higher educational institutions.

Pennsylvania State University alone would get more than $3 million of the $5 million additional Scranton is asking for state institutions.

Another $11 million would be earmarked for a state employees' general salary increase.

Public education will take a 50.4 per cent bite of the total budget, or about $636,292,267. Public health and welfare spending will be 27.7 per cent, or $349,993,007.

The governor will recommend

Pennsylvania House Makes Rules Change

HARRISBURG, Pa. — The Democratic majority in the House Monday night approved a stringent rules change permitting legislators to order administration leaders in for summary questioning, then adjourned for a week despite the scheduled presentation by Gov. William Scranton of his 1965 budget.

The Democrats jammed through the change of rules with a 109 to 90 vote.

It would allow the House to call in, without advance notice, any government official to answer any questions which might be asked.

Heretofore, an administration official could be brought before the House only if the motion were made by the majority leader and seconded by the minority leader.

Republican Minority Leader Kenneth Lee of Eagles Mere declared the rules change was designed only "to turn this House into a star chamber for political purposes," adding he believed it an intrusion of executive prerogatives.

"If this power is placed in the hands of someone who wants to," he said, it could be used to harass the administration out of its mind."

The change appeared aimed at the Department of Highways, but every department head in the state administration will be subject.

Herbert Fineman of Philadelphia, majority whip, replied to Lee's charges. "In 1963-64 when you held the majority, you made a shambles of the rules."

Eisenhower To Attend Funeral Of Churchill

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will attend the funeral of Sir Winston Churchill in London, a spokesman for the general said.

Gen. Eisenhower canceled a scheduled Wednesday appearance at a Los Angeles benefit in order to attend, the spokesman said.

Mrs. Eisenhower is not expected to accompany her husband.

Communitywide Drive Set

$50,000 Sought To Help Improve Patterson Field

A $50,000 fund drive to take care of urgently needed improvements at Patterson Field was approved unanimously by the East Liverpool High School Athletic Board at its meeting Monday.

Frank C. Dawson was named chairman of the improvement committee which will call on the community for the contributions necessary to carry out the four-point renovation program.

The $50,000 would be used for the construction of new permanent bleachers with 2,000 seats, installation of modern lighting, resurfacing of the present concrete stands and erection of a new press box.

HIGH SCHOOL Principal Carl Pelini, president of the athletic board, told the seven members present yesterday: "The time has come. We can't let things go any longer at Patterson Field. Something has to be done."

He broke down the figures for the proposed improvements as follows:

$25,000 — New bleachers, at an estimated cost of $12.50 per seat;
$15,000 — A modern lighting system;
$4,500 — Resurfacing of concrete stands on the west end of field;

THE ATHLETIC board's revenue comes from ticket receipts. While some money still is available from last season, Pelini said it is being used in

For Churchill's Last Journey

Somber Funeral Rehearsal Held

LONDON (AP) — The roll of muffled drums sounded through London streets before dawn today in somber rehearsal for Sir Winston Churchill's last journey.

All traffic stopped in the heart of the mourning capital as the gun carriage which will carry his body in Saturday's funeral rolled through the darkened streets to St. Paul's Cathedral.

The procession marched from Westminster Hall to St. Paul's. Women office cleaners and other early workers were the only spectators.

A Royal Air Force escort led the way. A naval officer, naked sword reversed, followed in the funeral march.

Soldiers and airmen paced beside the naval bluejackets hauling the gun carriage. A line of empty limousines trailed behind.

Another rehearsal was scheduled Friday morning.

Scotland Yard launched a major security operation to protect the scores of foreign statesmen who will pay homage to Britain's great wartime leader.

The Yard's Special Branch began a check of all buildings overlooking the route. Others will be assigned to protect visiting leaders around the clock.

Churchill's body will be taken tonight from his family home south of Hyde Park, where he died Sunday at the age of 90. At Lady Churchill's request, the Archbishop of Canterbury will conduct the coffin to a catafalque in Westminster Hall, where the body will lie in state for three days.

The Archbishop, Dr. Michael Ramsey, is spiritual head of the Church of England. With only family mourners around him, he will say prayers. The family will take its leave and a military guard of honor will begin its vigil.

At 11 a.m. Wednesday the hall will open to the public. It will close only for members of the Churchill family and official guests to pay private homage.

Barriers have gone up in 24 miles of surrounding streets to control the mammoth crowds expected to pass by the closed coffin.

Saturday morning the great chimes of Big Ben will be silenced as the body is borne to St. Paul's Cathedral on a gun carriage used previously only for four monarchs.

Churchill knew and served them all — Queen Victoria, Edward VII, George V and George VI.

More than 3,000 men of all the fighting services will line the funeral route through Whitehall, the Strand, Fleet Street and Ludgate Hill.

Ten bands and 3,500 more troops will march in the funeral procession.

After the funeral service in St. Paul's, the body will be borne to the Thames River near the Tower of London and then by launch and motor hearse to Waterloo Station, where the public ceremonial ends.

Wants To Attend Churchill Funeral

Doctors Seek To Build Up President's Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's doctors concentrate today on trying to build his strength so he can attend Sir Winston Churchill's funeral.

Johnson has said he wants to make the trip to England "very, very much." Certainly there would be no question about his going had he not caught a heavy cold last week that landed him in the Bethesda Naval Medical Center in the wee hours of Saturday morning.

Aides reported Monday Johnson's recovery has been such that he is now physically capable of flying to London for Saturday's final tribute to Churchill. They said only one big question remains.

Will he stay in bed and mind his doctors long enough to rebuild his strength and develop

Cuts Eyed By Congress In Spending

Many Say Johnson Record Budget Will Top $99.7 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has performed its annual rite of pledging spending cuts and is moving toward action on a program many members think will cost more than President Johnson's record $99.7-billion price tag.

Johnson banked heavily on continued prosperity in telling Congress in his budget message Monday he expects to hold expenditures for the year beginning July 1 below the $100-billion mark.

He is scheduled to spell out in a message Thursday the economic prospects on which he based a revenue estimate of $94.4 billion. Republicans were quick to point out this estimate called for $5.2 billion in red-ink spending and would boost the national debt to a record $322 billion.

On the other hand, GOP members lined up to support — and possibly to increase — a $1.75-billion cut in excise taxes proposed by Johnson.

Democrats joined with Republicans in predictions that there will be slashes in the President's budget. But the fact remained that while Congress might reduce the Johnson appropriation requests this would have little effect on the rate of spending in the new fiscal year unless it dumps some of his programs.

Even Republicans were conceding privately that Johnson will get from Congress nearly all of the authority he is asking to put the "Great Society" into operation.

Nevertheless, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield predicted some budget cuts will be made. He was joined in this by Sens. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa; John L. McClellan, D-Ark.; Allen J. Ellender, D-La.; George D. Aiken, R-Vt.; and Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D.

Despite these efforts, McClellan, Hickenlooper, Ellender and Aiken said they think expenditures will top the $100-billion mark.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House Republican leader, said he suspects that Johnson over-estimated revenues and underestimated expenses to keep the figure under the $100-billion mark.

City Trucker Indicted In Manslaughter Case

The Jefferson County Grand Jury today indicted an East Liverpool man on second degree manslaughter in the traffic death of a Steubenville baby, while two Wellsville brothers were indicted on assault and battery after a felony charge was reduced in connection with a shooting.

Robert Arnold Stollenwerk, 29, of 1119 Pennsylvania Ave., was indicted in the death of Mary Xintarianoe, 5 months old, in the collision of her parents' car and a tractor-trailer rig operated by Stollenwerk Jan. 2 at the approach to the Ft. Steuben bridge at Steubenville.

Martin Thompson, 25, and David Thompson, 27, of 1421 Main St., Wellsville, were indicted on assault and battery. They had been charged with shooting with intent to wound in a fracas Dec. 8 at a Steubenville club in which the owner, Charles Brooks, 52, was wounded.

The Grand Jury returned 18 indictments, ignored 23 cases and continued one. Arraignment will be held Friday at 9:30 a. m.

U.S. Presses Bid To Deny Soviet Vote

Support In U.N. Sought On Demand For Fees Payment

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States goes before the General Assembly today seeking support for its demand that voting rights be denied the Soviet Union and other U.N. members two years behind in their financial payments.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson was not expected to launch a major attack against the Soviet Union in his long-delayed policy statement. Despite the U.S.-Soviet deadlock over dues, the United States insists it is fundamentally an issue between the United Nations and debtor nations and not a big-power dispute.

In Wellsville Police Dispute

Amato Case Nearing End With Ruling Slated Today

The civil suit of Charles F. Amato of Wellsville, an extra patrolman, against city officials and the Wellsville Civil Service Commission was expected to end today in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon and Judge Joel H. Sharp said he plans to issue a ruling today.

The judge recessed the trial at 11:45 until 2 p. m. when he said he expected to give a ruling. His announcement followed summations by attorneys for both sides.

The defendants in the declaratory judgment case are Mayor William Daugherty, Safety Service Director Fred Baldasare and Edward Welch, Donald Miller and Richard Lloyd, members of the Civil Service Commission.

Amato claims the defendants refuse to recognize his status

Woman Given 30-Day Term On 2 Charges

A 24-year-old Youngstown woman accused of battling a police officer Jan. 6 when he nabbed her outside a super-market for theft of six cartons of cigarettes was given two 30-day concurrent terms in County Jail today in Municipal Court on charges of petty larceny and "resisting and abusing" the patrolman.

Holly Mims pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing cigarettes worth $14.79 from the Loblaw, Inc., Market on Dresden Ave. She was convicted in a lengthy hearing on a charge of resisting Patrolman Jack Strobel, a part-time employee of the market who apprehended her in the parking lot outside the store.

An East End man and woman were held for the Grand Jury in the strongarm robbery of a Georgetown area resident after a full-scale preliminary hearing that lasted over two hours Monday in Municipal Court.

Bound over under $1,000 bonds were Clifford Eugene McDole, 1702 Alpha St., and Mrs. Elsie P. Moore, 718 Pennsylvania Ave.

Will Press For Vote By Mid-March

Former Foe Of Plan Thinks Legislation Can Be Worked Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposed health-care program for the aged is off to a speedy start in Congress.

The House Ways and Means Committee, where similar plans have languished for a decade, starts executive sessions Wednesday with the goal of a House vote by March 15.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, a consistent opponent of earlier versions of the plan, has said he believes legislation can be worked out on the basis of Johnson's proposal for financing through a separate payroll tax, but run by the Social Security Administration.

The chairman, moreover, told newsmen the committee is dispensing with any further time-consuming public hearings on the health-care issue. Mills, saying the committee had heard witnesses for weeks during the past Congress, took the position that it is now merely resuming executive sessions interrupted last year.

However, officials of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Social Security Administration will sit with the Committee by invitation during its sessions. Welfare Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze will be among them Wednesday.

The committee is expected to rewrite substantially the administration plan.

The legislation sent to the House also is expected to include provisions raising the Social Security old-age payments.

Both houses passed such legislation last year, but it was lost in conference because of the row over health care.

An Associated Press poll of the House last week pointed to passage of a health-care plan along the lines proposed by the administration. The Senate passed last year's version, which House conferees then refused to accept.

Mills said the committee would consider all proposals for health care of the aged, not only

GOP Entrant Assures Race For Council

A Republican and Democrat filed for Third Ward councilman Monday at the County Election Board with the GOP entrant assuring a contest for his party's nomination at the May 4 primaries.

The new candidates also included a former councilman seeking the Council presidency in Wellsville, two Lisbon Council candidates and Mayor Robert T. Harding of East Palestine filing for re-election on the Republican ticket, confirming an earlier announcement.

Seeking the GOP nomination as Third Ward representative is Paul C. Shingler, 359 Garfield St., an insurance agent. S. James Welch, a former councilman, filed earlier for the post.

The Democratic candidate is John Paul Grimes, 130½ W. 4th St., a potter.

Allen C. Baldwin filed for the Democratic nomination as Council president in Wellsville.

Fayson Miller and Wilbur Mattix filed as GOP candidates for Lisbon Council and John A. Davis entered as the Republican candidate for Second Ward councilman in East Palestine.

Four more Republican candidates were listed this morning.

Street Head At Lisbon To Retain Post

LISBON — Mayor Dean Stockman's re-appointment of Richard (Dick) Roberts as street commissioner for 1965 was approved by Council Monday night.

He has served for several years, subject to reappointment annually.

G. Cecil Rauch of the Rauch Insurance Agency reported on insurance his firm holds on village property.

He said policies include $105,000 on the sewage plant, half of valuation; $12,500 on the swimming pool property, in full; $45,000 on the City Hall, three-quarters; $12,500 on the water works buildings, in full; $50,000 and $100,000 on swimming pool liability, and $50,000 and $100,000 village liability.

He advised that the village is paying $1,136.37 per year, but this is not the complete cost as several subdivisions of the village also pay part of the premiums.

He was instructed to have one of his company's engineers examine the City Hall insurance which he feels may be low. The engineer's survey is a free service to the village.

William (Bill) Hiscow, representing the Lions Club, gave Council several lists of merchants he contacted concerning the annual street fair on village streets.

Two merchants opposed, three declined to sign and all others contacted approved. The affair is scheduled for the third week in July but the exact location is not known. It was tentatively set up so that merchants could be contacted as to their sentiments.

Clerk-Treasurer Ray Hempstead had Council approve a temporary budget of $81,700 for the first three months. He reported that $17,000 was paid against the $273,000 indebtedness last year.

Mayor Dean Stockman appointed Clyde Pike, Fred Steele and Robert Kelm as a committee to check on purchase of a riding mower for village.

Robbery

James E. Mellott, 40, of Georgetown R. D. 1 "by using force and violence" on Jan. 10.

Following the lengthy hearing, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff ruled there was "sufficient and probable cause" that a crime had been committed and held McDole and Mrs. Moore to the Grand Jury.

Mellott was the first witness, identifying Mrs. Moore as the woman for whom he purchased some drinks. He said he then left the tavern with her when she suggested they go to another place for more drinking.

The Georgetown man said they went to a parking lot, but told the court he was not acquainted with East Liverpool and was not able to name the location.

In response to a question from Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, Mellott said there were some railroad cars at the parking lot.

When they reached the lot where Mrs. Moore's car was parked, he said McDole attacked him, knocked him to the ground and took his wallet and drove off with Mrs. Moore, Mellott said.

The victim said he wrote down the license number and description of the auto and ran to the street where he flagged down a passing cruiser driven by Lt. McDaniel.

He was in the cruiser with Lt. McDaniel when, with the assistance of another cruiser operated by Patrolman David K. Mumaw, McDole's auto was halted on the North Side after a chase.

Following Lt. McDaniel's testimony, McDole took the stand and absolved Mrs. Moore. He said when he picked her up she did not know the wallet was in the car.

He testified his auto was parked in the same lot with Mrs. Moore's and he and Mellott began scuffling when he saw them going to her car.

During the fight, Mellott's wallet fell out but the man ran away, McDole told the court. He said he took the wallet with him.

Mrs. Moore in her testimony said she didn't even know the man was beating up Mellott. When he yelled he had been robbed and was lying on the ground, Mrs. Moore said she asked him if he wanted a dime to call police, but Mellott got up and ran out of the lot.

She said McDole came past and she got in his car to go home.

Following her testimony, Asst. Solicitor Clark introduced a statement that Mrs. Moore had given Lt. McDaniel.

In the statement, she said McDole had handed her the wallet and told her to get rid of it, but that she didn't. She told the officer she thought the wallet was the one McDole had taken from Mellott.

Atty. G. William Brokaw, McDole's counsel, made a motion to reduce the charge to larceny but it was overruled by Judge Chertoff. Atty. Donald D. Shay represented Mrs. Moore.

The United States has informed other U.N. members that if the assembly lets the Soviets and other delinquents keep their assembly vote, Washington will review its own policy of pouring large sums into U.N. projects.

The United States has agreed to allow a face-saving device whereby the debtors could satisfy Article 19 by making voluntary contributions.

The Soviets have announced that they are willing to make a substantial contribution. They insist, however, that the assembly first set aside Article 19 for the current session. The United States has rejected this.

Secretary-General U Thant, who has been trying to head off a showdown, appeared to have won a little more time for negotiations.

Assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana said he does not expect to call until next Monday for election of committee chairmen and assembly vice presidents. The election could bring the showdown.

'Right To Read' Program

Attack On Adult Illiteracy Being Eyed In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — An attack on adult illiteracy has been launched here.

A "right to read" program, designed to train more than 500 functional illiterates to read and write by the middle of April, was initiated Monday by the PACE Association in cooperation with the Cleveland public schools, Cleveland Public Library and other community organizations. PACE stands for Program for Action by Citizens in Education.

The experimental program is based on a revolutionary new method of teaching reading—"Words in Color." If successful, thousands of adult illiterates in the Cleveland area will make significant gains in reading and writing without cost to them.

The 1960 census showed there were 14,000 adults in Cuyahoga County, which embraces Cleveland, who had no school and 51,000 with fewer than five years of formal schooling.

Cleveland's program could point the way for similar projects in other major cities, a PACE spokesman said. The U. S. Office of Education estimates there are some nine million adult illiterates in this country.

One goal of President Johnson's anti-poverty program is to educate adult illiterates so they can be more productive. Representatives of the Office of Economic Opportunity, which administers the anti-poverty program, are expected to visit Cleveland to observe the "right to read" project.

The "words in color" method was developed by Dr. Caleb Gattegno, a Spanish-born linguist and mathematician, for a Chicago publisher of instructional materials.

Designed for beginning readers, it in effect makes English, which is non-phonetic, into a phonetic language without changing traditional spellings. This is done by assigning a distinctive color to each of the 47 sounds of English.

The same color is used for a given sound regardless of what letter combinations produce it. For instance, yellow is used on wall charts for the "u" in up, the "o" in done, the "oe" in does, the "ou" in young and the "oo" in blood.

The colors are used as clues in learning to read although the student reads and writes in the conventional black and white.

Fire Hits Shop At Globe Brick

Damage was estimated at $1,200 in a fire early Monday night in the carpenter shop of the Globe Brick Co. near Newell.

Newell Fire Chief Charles Lee estimated the loss, but said it might run higher after the equipment is checked.

The fire apparently was started when sparks from a grinder ignited sawdust.

Asst. Chief Gene Lytton credited the action of several employees in using hand extinguishers with holding the blaze down until firemen arrived.

The alarm was received at 5:45 p. m. with 12 men answering the call.

Because of the alarm, the meeting of the department was delayed last night.

The annual carnival was set for July 17-24, inclusive, with the parade scheduled Friday, July 23. Chief Lee heads the parade committee.

A report also was received on an alarm at 10 p. m. Saturday when firemen were called to quell a blaze in an auto blamed on a carburetor backfire. Earl Flesch, president, presided.

Lottery Case Costs $200

A Weirton man was fined and another forfeited a bond on lottery charges at hearings Monday before Squire John D. Herron in New Cumberland.

Lottery charges against two women were dismissed and a Weirton woman was fined for illegal possession and sale of alcoholic liquor.

Al Magrini drew a fine of $200 and costs on charges of conducting a lottery while similar charges against Elizabeth Simbanin and Eleanor Alice Rutkowski were dismissed.

The three were cited in a raid Jan. 16 by sheriff's deputies at the Sports Lounge on Main St., Weirton. Deputies said they found numbers, sports pools and punch boards in the club.

James Bournias of Peoples Restaurant, also of Weirton, forfeited a $207 bond on a charge of conducting a lottery. He was cited in a raid Thursday by deputies who said they found lottery slips.

Daisy Anderson of Al's Ft. Pitt Bar in Weirton was fined $100 and costs for possession of alcoholic liquor and $50 and costs for illegal sale. She was cited in a raid Jan. 13.

He doesn't think much of today's architecture, devoid of sculptured decorations. "It's all modernistic now," he says. "Straight — no windows, no nothing."

Amato

Daugherty and Baldasare to fill the vacancy.

The court later ordered that the administration fill the vacancy. An appointment was made, according to the mayor, but the man resigned a few days later.

This left only two men on the eligibility list and the mayor has the right to withhold the appointment until there are three names on the list.

During this period, Amato filed an action to have the appointment set aside and himself named.

Amato claims that in November 1958 he took the Civil Service examination and placed third. He took two other examinations, November 1960 and February 1963, and placed first each time.

Numerous witnesses, including many city officials, both present and past, have been called.

Amato's attorneys rested their case last Wednesday after having summoned 15 witnesses and submitting 99 exhibits.

Solicitor William L. Bush is acting on behalf of the city and the Civil Service Commission. Atty. James Allison of East Palestine is Daugherty's personal attorney and Atty. Lawrence W. Smith Jr. is counsel for Baldasare.

Atty. Ben H. Berman of East Liverpool and Atty. John E. Bauckneet of East Palestine are representing Amato.

Okay, Whip It Up!

Defense Spending

By David Lawrence

Congress Now Must Pass Judgment

While the outline of proposed defense policy which President Johnson gave to Congress a few days ago is the formal advice and recommendation of a chief executive, it's the duty of Congress to pass judgment on whether the safety and security of the United States can be preserved either by arbitrarily limiting expenditures for national defense or by allowing any factors other than national security to receive priority in the expenditure of public funds. The President frankly admits that he sees ahead a "leveling-off in defense expenditures." He says that outlays for defense will "constitute a declining portion of our expanding annual gross national product."

He recommends that over the next several years—barring a significant change in the international situation—approximately the same amount of dollars should be spent annually for our national defense as is being appropriated today.

He predicts that then "an ever-larger share of our expanding national wealth will be free to meet other vital needs, both public and private."

THE MANNED BOMBER, therefore, provides an alternative delivery system. Military men point out, too, that further tests are needed to make sure that some of the new missiles will actually be able to become operational and will detonate as planned.

There are other points in the President's message on defense which will certainly precipitate debate in Congress. He said:

"Our military policy under the secretary of defense is now more closely tied than ever to the conduct of foreign policy under the secretary of state."

"Our military forces must be so organized and directed that they can be used in a measured, controlled, and deliberate way as a versatile instrument to support our foreign policy."

Congress never has ordained by law that civilians should direct military men how to organize national defense. It never has been intended, moreover, that the Department of State should tell the military forces how to prepare for war or how much our defense expenditures should be curtailed in order to carry diplomatic favor with other nations.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S message last week told of additional weapons, particularly certain missiles which are to be used from our submarines. He also recommended that more money be spent to improve strategic bombers. There is a serious question, however, as to whether the Department of Defense will be able to maintain superiority in equipment if expenditures are to be limited on the theory that America has enough strength already.

Gen. Thomas S. Power, who recently retired after seven years as the head of the Strategic Air Command, says that the United States now "has more weapons than there are worthwhile targets."

He adds, however, that "there is a fundamental and basic difference between a weapon in a stockpile and a delivered weapon," and that "only a small percentage of weapons ever reach an enemy target."

Military men generally are not happy about what they consider to be an arbitrary reduction in expenditures for military needs. They feel that military spending should not be conditioned upon or related to the size of welfare expenditures, particularly when the issue could involve survival itself.

As the late Winston Churchill, in his first broadcast as prime minister, said to the British people on May 19, 1940: "The interests of property, the hours of labor, are nothing compared with the struggle for life and honor, for right and freedom, to which we have vowed ourselves."

Taxpayer's Baffle Season

By James Marlow

This is the baffle season when the taxpayer, if he has interest and energy enough, can trudge through that wilderness called the President's budget.

This is the one area of government above all where the taxpayer, who has to foot the bill, can understand the least even though it's all laid out for him in a huge volume full of vast detail and dollar signs.

President Johnson presented his budget Monday — saying it will cost $99.7 billion to run the government another year — after working on it for months to keep expected spending down, particularly below $100 billion.

To show how much of an economist he is, he said government departments and agencies asked for a bottom figure of $108.5 billion. But how are you going to tell whether the $99.7 billion he asked is too much or too little?

You may have very strong opinions about the principle of foreign aid or federal aid to education or medical care for the aged but here you can base opinion on social attitudes or unexamined prejudices.

But you don't have the comfort of prejudice in examining the arithmetic of the budget. You don't know enough about what you're looking at.

The budget, a bunch of figures covering every facet of government, is put together by people who are supposed to know the most about the problems the money is intended to solve: the heads of departments and agencies.

An outsider may shudder at the size of Johnson's $99.7-billion request or, at this time of growing population and rising needs, feel Johnson was a magician in keeping costs below $100 billion at all.

But either conclusion is an opinion without true knowledge. For how, for instance, can an outsider know whether the $49 billion Johnson asked for defense, with all that involves, is too ample or too thin?

The politicians are no help. As was expected, they sound like a re-run of themselves from last year and the year before since their reactions are predictable, depending on the party of the one doing the talking.

The Republicans were customarily critical Monday, particularly of what they called "bookkeeping manipulation," and they complained about the "same old sleight of hand."

The Democrats were kinder, naturally, and to nobody's surprise the House Democratic leader, Carl Albert of Oklahoma, said that by every realistic test the budget is fiscally sound beyond any doubt.

But this hardly came under the heading of news since Albert, as the Democrats' House captain, has to work hand-in-glove with Johnson all year.

In politics $100 billion is taking on the appearance of a dirty word and the Republicans' House leader, Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, said he had some suspicion that, to keep the spending total under $100 billion, "they are overestimating revenues and underestimating expenses."

In 1962 President John F. Kennedy's budget was $92.5 billion and it was $98.8 billion in 1963, highest in history up to that time.

Mao's Gangs Come To U.S. Streets

By Victor Riesel

Unnoticed by a forgetful public, a local grand jury has been probing the conspiracy which launched bloody, barricadebuilding, window smashing, looting, and rioting that turned New York streets into shambles last summer.

In recent weeks, at least 18 defiant young self-proclaimed revolutionaries have been quizzed. Most of them are avowed disciples of mainland China's Mao Zze-tung who talk openly of carrying his guerrilla tactics onto the streets of America's cities.

The reluctant witnesses are tough, well trained, direct actionists who lead the upsurging Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) which is quite serious about its revolutionary doctrines.

They are obviously well directed. They apparently have a quasi-military central command. They are fully financed. They have no dearth of specialists in guerrilla tactics or of "agit - props," agitation-propagandists.

THEY FIND no difficulty in deluging New York City and other metropolises, with expensive, deftly written newspapers, magazines and pamphlets championing Peking's Communist line.

They issue regional and neighborhood publications. But what troubles the federal and local authorities most — and what has brought observers from other cities into this huge community, is the complex of sub-organizations they are able to project into the tense, teeming multi-racial, multi-tongued slum neighborhoods.

These are linked with hard hitting pseudo labor groups which have attempted to provoke chaos on the docks and bitterness among hundreds of thousands of welfare and relief recipients during the strikes here.

Most of the propaganda activity is directed by three men. The leader is Milton Rosen, chairman of the pro-Peking Progressive Labor Movement who

HIS AIDE is vice chairman William Epton, who doubles as head of the PLM's Harlem Branch. Epton was arrested last August 5 on charges of committing criminal anarchy and incitement to commit bodily harm to police officers and local judges.

The third is a mysterious Walter Linder, their publicist, and labor specialist. One of his latest creations is the Railroad Workers Unemployment Council. This was set up in an effort to infiltrate the ranks of those now being laid off by the railroads under a recent Supreme Court decision.

The trio's most recent and most ambitious project was an effort to prolong the national waterfront strike.

Last week they devoted much of their eight page, extensively printed tabloid, Challenge, to attacks on leaders of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) and the federal government. This edition was prepared by one obviously intimate with the most complicated waterfront matters. No amateur job, this.

THOUSANDS of copies were distributed along the paralyzed Manhattan and Brooklyn docks.

All went with precision. Young men appeared, distributed their bundles, spread their papers among striking longshoremen and disappeared quickly. Some were chased off, and swiftly made their way to getaway cars as well as public transport.

Few ILA leaders believe the revolutionary literature had any definitive impact. But the bid was obvious. Even if a few militant dockers heeded the incitement, it was worth it to the

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Fire caused damage estimated at $1,000 to the two-story brick grocery store and apartment building owned by Mrs. Erna Gerber of Ravine St.

Mrs. Minnie Kinsey was named president of the auxiliary of Pvt. Eddy Auxiliary 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — George Kenneth McBane of W. 8th St. was promoted to staff sergeant at the Army air base in Lincoln, Neb.

Steps toward improving the collection of garbage were taken by Wellsville council.

TEN YEARS AGO — A bill was introduced in the House of the Pennsylvania Legislature to appropriate $5 million to construct an Ohio River bridge near Midland to Shippingport.

Miss Phyllis Crook of East Liverpool and Dr. M. W. Riegel of Salem were elected trustees of the Osteopathic Hospital.

Space To Spare

Patagonia has lots of wide-open space, a surplus of wind and millions of sheep — but few people.

For half a century, Argentine leaders have vainly exhorted their young countrymen to go south. With 28 per cent of the national territory, Patagonia holds only a half-million people, or 2.5 per cent of Argentina's total, the National Geographic Society says.

Much of the vast southern region is chilly desert where stormy winds constantly blow and a haze of dust hangs in the air. "The wind is so strong," a Patagonian sheep rancher said, "that we put our windmills in the cellar." Most of the windmills are, in fact, mounted on stubby six- or eight-foot towers.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By George Lichty

"... And we can get it off the ground if each of us calls ten friends and tells them about the 'Great Society', and asks each of them to call ten of THEIR friends..."

Why Not Call It $100 Billion?

By the time Congress had doctored up President Johnson's budget for the fiscal year that starts next July 1, it will be more than $100 billion.

The wallop of the budget as submitted is that its total was kept a shade under $100 billion — at $99.7, representing the Johnson administration's psychological strategy of budgeteering.

Budgeteering is the mystic art of making the public believe what it wants to believe about public finances. It is practiced in every state of the Union, according to the prevailing state of mind.

Most of us want to think our government, local, state and federal, is going to give us everything we have been led to think we need at no increase in taxes and preferably at cut prices.

This has given rise to one of the basic axioms of practical politics—oppose all tax increases and vote in favor of all public handouts.

What the federal government is doing isn't quite that cynical, but it's the same general idea.

IT IS ADVOCATING a steady rise in federal spending accompanied by a steady decline in federal taxing. The resultant deficit, which once would have been considered an admission of financial failure, now is taken for granted.

It is there. No one hides it. Some say it will go away eventually, provided the federal budget is kept under control, meaning under $100 billion.

But if the choice is between getting rid of a deficit of something like $5 and $6 billion and reducing taxes, tax reduction will get the nod.

And if the choice is between reducing the national debt, now estimated to reach $316 billion by June 30, and giving the people what they think they want, the people will get what they think they want.

This is the way it's being done. The method is not copyrighted by Democrats. It is equally popular with Republicans. It represents the manifest will of the sovereign people.

They do not believe they exist to serve the state, all high-flown resolutions to the contrary notwithstanding.

They think the state exists to give them what they expect from a good society.

THOSE WHO WANT their prosperity

He Belongs To The Country

President Johnson's countrymen were glum over the weekend. We were scared. We had wondered through the inaugural whirl if our chief executive wasn't overdoing it. We had wondered the same thing during his campaign last fall.

We don't expect Mr. Johnson or any president to take unnecessary risks with his health or his physical security. Whenever they do it, we wince.

A PRESIDENT of the United States isn't his own man; he belongs to the nation. The world has a vested interest in him, because the world depends on the United States for security.

Presidents react to this realization in different ways. Mr. Johnson seems to have ignored it altogether. He has had to be "protected" in spite of himself. He seems to resent caution.

As far as conserving his energy has been concerned, he has been oblivious of tempered by prudence — and many do feel sure in their hearts that President Johnson wants to hold down the spending rate relative to population growth and increases in gross national product. They have confidence in his intentions.

They have paid particular attention to Defense Secretary McNamara's hard line-holding on defense spending; they find it reassuring.

They are confident that the present and future treasury secretaries will continue to give the White House sound advice; they trust their judgment.

They are reassured because President Johnson has revealed in his budget message what they previously had surmised. He has no intention of presenting the bill for the "great society" in a lump-sum form. It's going to be done on the easy-payment plan—a few billions down and a few billions extra a year from now till eternity.

This is the welfare state. It's here to stay, which is a transcendent fact not only of politics but of public finance.

More Figures

Another cautionary note to the younger drivers: With 10-month figures now officially tabulated, teen-age motorists continue to be involved in nearly one out of every four of Ohio's traffic accidents.

The report comes from Warren C. Nelson, director of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety.

Of the 50,632 accidents recorded in rural areas, 13,093, or 25.9 per cent, involved teen-agers, while of the 91,191 urban crashes, 19,060, or 20.9 per cent, involved the younger drivers.

There were 141,823 accidents recorded for the first 10 months of 1964 and of these 32,153, or 22.7 per cent, involved teen-agers, Nelson said.

Curiously enough, the smaller the community, the larger percentage of teen-agers involved, the report showed.

By bringing these figures to your attention, it is not our intention to be "picking" on you. Rather, the hope is that they will serve as another reminder of the need for care on the highways.

You youngsters are the leaders of the future and we want you to be around to carry on.

prudence. He burned up energy during the festivities in Washington last week at a prodigious rate.

He kept up a pace that would have exhausted most men his age and did exhaust men younger than he is. And to cap the climax, he ignored the unpleasantness of the weather and wore no overcoat and no hat during the long inaugural parade.

HE NEEDS to prove nothing about his health and endurance. They are impressive. All he needs to prove is that he knows why he should widen his margin of security and prudence.

It's because he belongs to the country he leads. He ceased to be his own man when he took the oath of office that tragic November day in Dallas after John F. Kennedy had been assassinated.

We can't afford to lose another president.

feeling that way under the Johnson administration.

The only rift in the lute is Viet Nam, and that can be mended by admitting there's a civil war there that we can't settle with our presence.

But now I am sounding preachy. I did not mean to get off on this tangent.

All I wanted to say was how I felt about the inauguration of President Johnson. I feel good because he knows the job.

I HAVE NOT felt this way in recent years. We have had a succession of peerless leaders who knew about this, that and the other thing but had to take on-the-job training in the White House.

We lost the only prospect who knew as many ropes as President Johnson knows when Richard Nixon was counted out in 1960.

Odd Facts

Two brothers, Jacques Etienne and Joseph Michel Montgolfier, are generally accredited as the first Europeans to make a balloon that successfully carried a man — on Oct. 15, 1783, a balloon which rose 84 feet in the air and remained aloft for four and one-half minutes.

Although no one knows exactly how many different languages are spoken throughout the world today, some speech experts estimate the number at about 6,000. A mere seven of these languages are spoken by half the human race.

A surprising 78 per cent of the U.S. population has never flown in a commercial airliner. And even more surprising is that the fact that 15 per cent of the air travelers account for 64 per cent of all air trips.

Mauna Loa, in Hawaii, which is 13,680 feet in height, is the largest volcanic mountain in the world in cubic content.

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: We are well here and doubt that you are the same.

I like it so well last year when I didn't retreat to my bed of pain in January that I am bearing up bravely again this year.

I feel no worse sitting up than I feel lying down. And if I refuse to take to my bed, I get well faster.

Your aunt never got into the habit of having the fanboys in January. She is up and about as usual, making me nervous with her optimistic chatter about the things she is doing.

I watched the inauguration activities on the box and wished I had been there to enjoy them. It is plainer to me every day that this fellow we have in the White House is a corker.

HE GOES AT the job as if he had been doing it all his life. As a matter of fact, he has been doing it all his life. We now have a chief executive who never wanted to be anything else.

Lyndon Johnson knows the federal government inside and out and forward and backward. Holding the highest political office isn't something he is doing as an avocation, or a second choice. It is the culmination of a lifelong ambition.

He isn't scared of the job, not this fellow. He doesn't have to rely on experts to tell him what to do. He's his own expert.

They used to call Harry Truman a politician. Shucks. Harry was an apprentice compared with LBJ. HST had politics on his mind, but Johnson has politics at his fingertips. He is a virtuoso.

He has been getting the breaks, but I think he has been helping to make the breaks.

WITH DUE RESPECT to John Fitzgerald Kennedy, I recall how the atmosphere improved after Johnson proved he could move into the White House and take over.

I never figured out the chicken and the egg, but I know emotion comes before economics. Things go well when people feel sanguine and safe. People have been

Council Eyes Patch Device At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Inspection of a used tar kettle for possible purchase of the equipment was approved by Council following a study of offers for street patching equipment Monday night.

Ed Brammer of the Our Co. offered to demonstrate the kettle, which he is offering at $450.

Brammer also offered a new 300-gallon kettle for $1,156. Howard Adams of the Adams Machine Co. offered a new kettle, two-wheeled with kerosene heater and gasoline engine to pressure the melted tar, at a cost of $950. It is a 250-gallon container.

The street committee is to arrange a demonstration of the used kettle with Brammer at a later date. A kettle is needed to replace an older model to provide patch material for streets.

Discussion was held on appointment of a new councilman to replace Don Lewis, who has resigned. Councilman Eugene Jarvis suggested all applications for the post be submitted by Feb. 5 for consideration by Council at the next meeting Feb. 8.

Pete Growall was retained as street foreman for the same wage as in 1964, and Police Chief Earl Laney was appointed street commissioner without a salary.

Mayor Stanley Fitch suggested the chairman of the safety and the street committees conduct monthly inspections of the police cruiser and the street vehicles and file reports to Council on the condition and maintenance.

He also suggested the street committee take a complete inventory of all street department tools and equipment.

Discussion was held on parking congestion along Main St. but no action was taken.

Solicitor Warren Bettis was requested to obtain estimates on the codification of village ordinances.

The mayor reported he has not yet received bids from two firms asked to file estimates of the cost of repairs to the heating system at the fire station.

2 Other Projects Planned

2 Beetle-Like Satellites To Be Launched By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two beetle-like satellites, a string of eight communications satellites, and a reactor-in-the-sky will be rocketed aloft by U.S. space scientists.

Plans for the projects were revealed in three separate announcements late Monday, indicating the variety of space ventures on the horizon.

The space beetles — with antennae extending almost a third of a mile — are designed to seek the source of mysterious celestial radio signals from our Milky Way galaxy, its planets and the stars.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration says the first of the 280-pound spacecraft are to go into orbit some 3,700 miles above the earth sometime in 1967, at the earliest.

The two satellites will measure the intensity and frequency of the signals, the time of emission and, within limits, will seek to pinpoint the regions of space from which they stem.

The eight communications satellites will be launched simultaneously for use by the Defense Department.

They will be sent skyward in 1966 by the privately owned, government-regulated Communications Satellite Corp. — Comsat — using a launch vehicle provided by the Pentagon.

If the launch is successful, the Defense Department would pay only for communications services. If the launch fails, Comsat would be responsible.

Three such launchings are planned, Comsat revealed as it filed with the Federal Communications Commission a notice of intent to purchase 24 of the satellites from the Hughes Aircraft Co. Aerospace Group, Culver City, Calif.

The project is separate from Comsat's efforts to develop an international commercial communications system.

The reactor, a small chain reacting nuclear device fueled by Uranium 235, is scheduled for a spring launch, according to the Atomic Energy Commission. It reported that a land-based version of the reactor had begun to produce electricity last Friday in tests by Atomics International, Canoga Park, Calif.

Called the SNAP 10A reactor, it will be fired aloft by an Atlas-Agena rocket and is designed to furnish auxiliary power for a satellite, including power for radio transmissions.

If the launch is successful, it would be the first known nuclear reactor of any kind carried aboard an earth satellite.

Military Ceremonies To Change Command

CINCINNATI (AP) — Military ceremonies transferring command of the First Regiment, Ohio Defense Corps, from Col. John C. Quinn to Lt. Col. Milton A. Mehl are to be held Friday night.

The Ohio Defense Corps is a little-known military unit whose mission is to back up the National Guard in event the Guard is called out of state. Regimental headquarters are at Blue Ash.

Quinn, of Cincinnati, took command of the regiment in 1950. Mehl, of Hamilton, is presently commander of the 13th Battalion, ODC. Quinn is retiring.

Henry Smith, noble grand, presided and also conferred an initiatory degree.

Lunch was served 15. The Clark 447 Club will convene following the next meeting of the lodge Monday night.

Hearing Slated Today On Child-Stealing

CLEVELAND (AP) — William H. Rehard, a parole violator charged with child-stealing, is scheduled for a preliminary hearing today before Municipal Judge Hugh P. Brennan.

Police said he admitted he kidnaped Donna Adkins, 7, last Thursday and fired blank .22-caliber charges into her eyes with a tear gas pistol. Doctors at Southwest Community Hospital said they will know in a few days the condition of the girl's left eye, operated on Friday.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss ... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss ... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair ... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation.

Many In U.S. Pay Tribute To Churchill

By The Associated Press

Tributes to Sir Winston Churchill continue throughout the United States by state legislatures, governors, in memorial church services and by just plain folks signing condolence books.

Nearly 1,000 persons filed through an 11th-floor room of the British Consulate in New York Monday to place their names in a book bordered by black velvet. The register will be given to the Churchill family.

"You gave me courage," "Love and respect," "Deepest regrets" and a simple "Thank you" were among the expressions written by laborers, office workers, students, doctors and diplomats.

"I feel as if I lost someone who was a world citizen," said one man as he signed the book.

Conductor Eugene Ormandy added Bach's "Come, Sweet Death" as the opening selection of Monday night's Philadelphia Orchestra concert in its home city as a tribute to the British leader who died Sunday in London at 90.

Episcopal Church services were planned in Denver, Los Angeles, Tulsa, Houston, Albany, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Chicago, New York and other cities.

Churches of the three major faiths scheduled memorial services in Houston — at Christ Church Cathedral Thursday, Congregation Beth Israel Friday night and a requiem Mass in Sacred Co-Cathedral Saturday.

The New Jersey Legislature stood in a moment of silent tribute and then passed resolutions praising Churchill as a "great man of the world." One legislator said: "There is no man in history who has done more for our way of life than did Sir Winston Churchill."

The Washington State Senate also paid silent homage as a chaplain described Churchill as the "free world's foremost spokesman of courage." He was described as "one of the great men of our time" in a Pennsylvania legislative resolution.

In Michigan, Gov. George Romney ordered flags in that state to fly at half staff through Saturday and proclaimed the period as one of mourning. He also called on his state's citizens to pause Saturday "in solemn meditation and reverence during the funeral for this beloved man."

Mississippi's Gov. Paul Johnson said in a proclamation that Churchill was "the greatest Englishman of them all."

In Washington, the House of Representatives approved a resolution of sympathy to Churchill's family, then adjourned after eulogies by House leaders. More speeches were on tap in the House today.

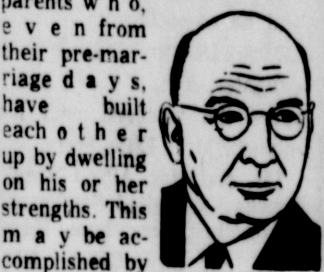

In Clearwater, Neb., a town of 500 in the north-central part of the state, a brief memorial service was being held today. The site was a home set aside for Clearwater for Churchill's use when it made him an honorary citizen in 1963.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Child's Successes Should Be Noted

A favorable background for furthering a child's growth through development is a pair of parents who, even from their pre-marriage days, have built each other up by dwelling on his or her strengths. This may be accomplished by generous use of Dr. Garry Myers' honest compliments, by each celebrating the successes of the other. It is more favorable if these parents are rarely heard belittling or criticizing other persons, but are often heard speaking with satisfaction and appreciation of their good personal qualities and achievements.

Parents practiced at bringing out the best in each other and at seeing and talking about the best in other adults are, on that account, the more disposed also to see and emphasize the best in their own children.

WE ARE talking of parents who see the best in their children as surely as they see the worst and approve this best as certainly and as strongly as they disapprove the worst. Such parents must have a lot of the Divine in them. It's human to see the wrongs in our children and to show them our displeasure over these wrongs more readily than to see the rights and express our pleasure over these rights.

The virtues in our children (and other loved ones) we take for granted; their virtues stir us up, arouse our anger, and rebukes. For every deserving praise we give them we sometimes utter twenty blames; yet, during almost any day, a child probably does a hundred praiseworthy things to one blame-worthy. It takes little or no intelligence, certainly no effort, to see what we dislike in a child and to disapprove it.

Our spinal cord usually does that for us. We have to be mentally alert and exercise a lot of struggle to see and appreciate the specific things we like in this child, and still more struggle to let him know we have seen and appreciated them.

HONEST compliments and approvals run counter to our native urges. The reason why we fail to compliment honestly our closest friends or loved ones as often as we should and express to them our satisfaction over their virtues, achievements, and successes is that it may seem to diminish our relative sense of superiority.

Nevertheless, we are not arguing here for being blind to wrong acts in the growing child and dumb when these acts warrant disapproval, even punishment. We are merely talking about the relative emphasis which we are disposed to place on right behavior in the child in comparison with his wrong acts.

Criticisms by one spouse of the other certainly have like effect. How strange that grown-up persons haven't discovered this fact. The earnest, conscientious couple, looking forward to marriage, should pledge fervently to each other on how they are going to help each other henceforth by each calling to the attention of the other his faults and failures. No other pledge will they keep more faithfully. Yet the hoped-for results don't follow. The more one criticizes the other, the worse he or she becomes, as a rule.

THESE YOUNG hopefuls should agree that they will help each other improve by building on each other's strengths instead of dwelling on each other's weaknesses; by celebrating successes in each other. It is fortunate if they also agree before the first child arrives to keep uppermost this same principle in bringing him up — and if they hold to their mutual pledge.

their way through the concrete, and this can only be corrected by resurfacing. This project was started several years ago and not completed due to lack of funds.

"The foundation structure of the press box has deteriorated to a point where we have a dangerous hazard. It is inadequate for present needs. To place a new structure above and behind the back wall also will add several good seats to the present stadium seating capacity."

If the drive is successful, Patterson Field will have undergone a complete face lifting in the last few years.

Several years ago, improvements were made in the locker-room area, the track was extended and a new concession stand was built at the north end of the field.

Bob McNea, athletic director and head football coach, informed the board of the work being done at present on the playing field. The field is being resodded and new grass will be planted between the 20-yard lines and the hash marks on the sides of the field.

McNea also explained the need for a pump to bring water directly from the river to be used on the field to cut down expenses during dry spells when the field must be watered.

Board members explained that if the $50,000 goal is not reached, the improvement program would have to be curtailed and the money available used for the most vital needs.

Youth Arrested In Robbery And Slaying Of Clerk

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 15-year-old boy released from a juvenile institution Christmas Eve was arrested early today in the robbery-slaying of a shoe store clerk.

Police Officers Hank Chapin and James Bonham said the youth, Charles A. Fulton, signed a statement which said the fatal shooting of one man and the wounding of another resulted because "they thought they were tough guys."

Three other youths also were held. Police said they waited in a car during the robbery.

A 22 caliber pistol and some money believed taken in the robbery were found at Fulton's home, officers reported.

Fulton's mother was present when his statement was made. Only $200 was taken in the robbery.

Police said the gunman entered the Pic-Way Self Service Shoe Store about 7:15 p.m. and asked Jack Lee L. Kennedy, 19, for money from the cash register.

When Kennedy delayed, he shot the clerk in the chest, wounding him.

The assistant manager, Richard E. Vice, 21, also of Columbus, handed over the money, then tried to grab the gunman. Vice was shot and killed.

Police said there were two other customers in the store at the time of the shooting but they were not injured.

Kennedy underwent surgery late Monday night at Grant Hospital and a slug was extracted from his chest. Attendants said his condition was still critical.

Salem Ward Case Now Due Appeal

LISBON — Common Pleas Court Judge Raymond Buzzard's recent ruling upholding the validity of an ordinance adopted by Salem Council for ward realignment has been appealed by two Council candidates affected by the changes in voting areas.

The case was carried up to the 7th District Court of Appeals Monday by the candidates as interveners.

Councilman Harold Astry of the Third Ward and Albert Lesch of the First Ward seek to file for re-election but if the Common Pleas Court ruling is upheld they would have to run against each other or one could file for councilman-at-large.

The disputed measure, which realigns the wards by transferring precincts from the First and Fourth Wards to the smaller Second and Third Wards, had been ruled illegal by the Columbiana County Board of Elections on Dec. 20, but was declared valid Thursday by Judge Buzzard.

The legislation was passed by Council Dec. 1 over the veto of Mayor Dean B. Cranmer, and City Solicitor Thomas Coe, at the request of Council, asked court for a declaratory judgment ruling the measure valid.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: As the mother of three boys, who are Scouts, I would like to pass this tip along to other mothers.

When sewing on those badges and emblems, just stitch iron-on tape (stick side out) to the back of the badge and press the badge on the uniform.

When sewing the tape onto the badges, I place waxed paper under the tape so it will not stick to the metal on the machine.

I also tack down the corners of the badges because they have a way of coming up after a few times in the dryer.

When you have to remove the emblems, press them, and while they're still hot, very gently pull off. The uniform is ready for your next boy, after putting on new tape. The emblems are also reusable.

MRS. DIANE BOWER.

Terrific! How much faster and easier this is than having to sew the badges and emblems on . . . and it's so much easier to get them in just the right spot.

After ironing on the badge, and it is completely cooled, turn the uniform inside out and iron over the badge area again. The material is thinner than the emblem so the heat will go through to the iron-on tape better and make it more secure.

Thanks for sharing with us, Diane.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My son folds a plastic rain cap and attaches it under the seat of his bike.

He says when he rides to school on his bike, he uses the cap to cover the seat when it looks like rain.

When school is out, he doesn't have to pedal home in a standing position to keep his dignity dry!

MRS. WM. SCHUCK.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I thought you would enjoy a good laugh . . . I sure did.

Saturday, I got out my squeeze bottles of shoe polish (black, brown and oxblood) to shine my grandson's shoes. I started polishing his black shoes.

My teen age daughter said "Mother, isn't that brown shoe polish your using?"

I said "My goodness, I just grabbed a bottle of polish, thinking it was black."

She said "Well, I figured you knew what you were doing and thought it was probably a new hint from Heloise."

I had to laugh . . .

LOU BRIDGES.

DEAR HELOISE: Bath mats around the toilet bowl just never stay in place. I solved this problem by sewing a piece of narrow elastic (you could use small safetypins) on each side of the mat and spanning the back of the commode.

Now the mat stays put!

ULIA PAPPAS.

DEAR HELOISE: My sister gave me a set of my favorite perfumes for my birthday.

The bottles have plastic stoppers in them to keep the perfume from evaporating and this is fine . . . except that every time I wanted to use the perfume I had to pry, tug and usually break a fingernail trying to remove the stopper.

I solved this problem by faking a hat pin and sticking it through the middle of the plastic stopper, making a tiny hole. Leave the pin in the perfume to keep it from evaporating. Remove to use.

Now I just take off the cap and use the bottle like a roll-on applicator, and it is perfect.

MRS. R. TAYLOR.

DEAR HELOISE: Some weeks ago you had a hint about dusting Venetian blinds with soft, heavy duty gloves. I made mittens out of an old bath towel and use them to dust my blinds. I also wear them to wash the blinds as the terry cloth holds the water and the roughness helps to clean them.

By using one mitten on each hand, it goes much faster.

Great.

KATHERINE.

Girl Burns Self To Death In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A 17-year-old Vietnamese girl drenched herself with gasoline and burned herself to death today as a political protest against the government of Premier Tran Van Huong.

It was the first such protest suicide since 1963, when immolations by Buddhists helped bring down the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The suicide today took place at Nha Trang, a coastal city 200 miles north of Saigon where an antigovernment demonstration was under way.

A second schoolgirl in Nha Trang also doused herself with gasoline, but the mob grabbed her and prevented her burning herself.

Witnesses reported from Nha Trang that about 4,000 persons had assembled before the waterfront home of the local provincial chief. The girl, a student named Hoang Thi Yen Phu, moved apart from the crowd and, unnoticed by the other demonstrators, poured gasoline over herself.

Then she set herself afire and was dead before anyone could extinguish the flames.

Buddhist monks reportedly picked up the body and carried it at the head of a huge procession to the local Buddhist pagoda.

In 1963, six Buddhist monks and one nun burned themselves to death in protest against the Diem government. There have been no burnings of monks or nuns since, but about 50 Vietnamese have committed suicide by burning since then for non-political reasons.

McNamara Pays Visit To Plane Engine Plant

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati company, bidding for the engine contract of the proposed huge transport plane that could carry as many as 600 men at one time, was visited Monday by Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense. McNamara met with executives of the General Electric plant in Evendale. His visit here was unannounced.

A source said the visit "might very well" have been in connection with the engine contract for the new C-5A transport plane announced by President Johnson several weeks ago. McNamara "went to the GE plant to look at engines. . . to see what engines were available there," press aide Arthur Sylvester said. GE would only confirm that McNamara visited the plant.

Ann Sothern For Vivian Vance?

Ann Sothern is appearing in four episodes of "The Lucy Show" on CBS beginning next Monday, but she claims she has no idea whether she is being considered as a replacement for Vivian Vance on the series next season.

Miss Vance has said she definitely will retire from the weekly TV grind at the end of the current run.

In New York for a few days, Miss Sothern reported:

"Someone said to me, 'I understand you're replacing Vivian Vance.' I said, 'My dear, I never replace anybody.'"

"ANYWAY," she went on, "I don't think Lucille knows whether she is going on next year. She can't make up her mind."

Miss Sothern said she had appeared in three episodes of the series and "it worked so well" that Miss Ball had asked her to come back and make a fourth. She'll return to the coast to do this one.

She is playing a character named Rosy Harrigan, from Lucy's home town.

"It's a marvelous character," Miss Sothern enthused. "Everyone is just mad for it."

MICHAEL BENTINE, star of a long-running BBC series called "It's a Square World," is in New York to appear on Jonathan Winters' next NBC comedy special, booked for next Monday.

One of the skits he'll do is a spoof on the BBC. He will play a BBC reporter sent to cover the World's Fair—but nobody told him it was closed for the winter. The "act" will be filmed at the mothballed fairgrounds.

Bentine's own show, seen by Britons Sunday nights at 7:30, is a fairly unusual bit of weekly entertainment. Although there are four performers who appear on it in sketches, it is essentially a one-man show, the 43-year-old Bentine being writer and producer as well as star. He is an accomplished mimic and satirist.

He is as apt as not to open a show with a filmed sequence of a man running, running, running, as though pursued by wild dogs, finally plunging down a slope and falling exhausted in a swamp. Up walk two men in white, bare a leg of the man, and remove a watch—still running.

BENTINE FEELS the late Ernie Kovacs was more akin to himself in comedy approach than anyone he ever has met, although he thinks Jonny Winters "very like Kovacs in his inventiveness."

The Briton recalls what a kick he got out of working with Kovacs in a sequence of a movie the American TV and movie actor was making in England.

"I felt," Bentine remembers, "like I'd finally met a man who thought the way I did."

But Bentine took down with pneumonia in midst of the filming and the sequence never was finished.

BBC's "This Was the Week That Was" was "very satirical and very bitter," and perhaps succeeded where the American version on NBC hasn't because it was "journalistic, written by newspaper people, not by gag writers," Bentine believes.

He conceded he hadn't seen too much of NBC's "TW3" but it had seemed to him "too restrained."

CBS "The Entertainers" has signed on an added regular—Ruth Buzzi of the off-Broadway musical, "Babes in the Woods."

She appeared on the variety show recently in a sketch with Dom DeLuise, playing a character she created called Shakuntala.

Miss Buzzi has been signed for five appearances during the next 10 weeks of the series, a CBS spokesman reported.

Height And Frame Influence Dress Size

The dress size controversy is never ending. On the subject of dress size for a given weight, women continue to be perplexed. For example, when a woman who outweighs you by many pounds claims to wear your dress size, or an even smaller size, you're convinced she is stretching the truth. She may not be, for many factors other than weight influence dress size.

It's height, combined with weight and hip girth, that makes the difference. There is a generally mistaken idea that all women of a given size classification are the same height. They are not. It is a misunderstanding on this score that leads to bafflement on sizes.

TO ILLUSTRATE, let's take three women of varying weights, all of whom fit into a size 14, regular, tall or short, depending on their height. The regular size 14 is designed for the woman of medium height, 5' 4½", and who weighs approximately 130 pounds. The size 14-tall is designed for the woman of 5' 8½", weighing approximately 138 pounds. The size 14-short is designed for the woman of 5' 1", who weighs approximately 124 pounds.

However, a dress designed with a full skirt can accommodate six pounds more weight. If the regular size 14 dress has a full skirt, our model can weigh 136 pounds. Similarly, our tall model can weigh approximately 144 pounds provided the dress is cut full through the hips.

With a weight variation of 20 pounds, these three models wear size 14, regular, tall or short. There is a weight range of 18 to 20 pounds in all size categories.

IES. The taller the woman, the more she can weigh for the stipulated dress size. Height is the big variable.

THE SCIENTIFIC Sizing System, as promulgated by the U. S. Department of Commerce, associates increased height with increased girth. By means of the importance given the height factor, manufacturers of women's clothes are able to do the best possible fashion job for all women in every size category.

Patrol Aide Gets Boys School Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A career officer in the Ohio Highway Patrol was named superintendent of the Fairfield School for Boys Monday.

Maj. Harold T. Cowell, who has been director of staff administration in the Patrol's Columbus headquarters, will succeed Gerald P. O'Hara. O'Hara has been acting director of the Lancaster facility for several months.

William Willis, director of the correctional services for the Ohio Youth Commission, said Cowell's primary duties at the school will be focussed on development of a quasi-military program designed to expose youths to a "total program involving discipline, training, and treatment aimed at rehabilitation."

This per capita figure is expected to be $1,624 on July 1, 1965, and it was $1,626 on July 1, 1964.

The debt was $312.5 billion last July and it is projected at $316.9 billion for next July.

ELHS Operated At $3,891 Profit For 1964 Grid Season

Wellsville May Be Cut Off Schedule

East Liverpool High School's football program operated at a profit of $3,891.62 during the 1964 season, a financial report approved by the Athletic Board revealed Monday night.

The balance is $4,634.04 below the 1963 total but gate receipts were less in 1964 with only 5 home games while 6 contests were played at home during the 1963 season.

WHILE one less home game was played, gate receipts were helped last season with a 25 cent increase in tickets over the previous campaign. A total of 22,623 fans attended 5 home games.

Total receipts were $28,918.65 as compared to $33,014.57 in 1963 while expenditures were nearly the same. Last season, $25,027.63 was spent on the 1963 football program while $24,489.51 was listed in expenditures for the '63 season.

EQUIPMENT for the high school team and two junior high squads led the list of expenditures with $7,078.06 being spent. Reconditioning of equipment for the three schools amounted to $2,909.04.

Ticket sales, including season books, accounted for $25,524.75 in receipts. A total of $3,850 was paid out in guarantees with $3,000 received in game guarantees.

FOLLOWING is the complete list of expenditures:

Equipment, $7,078.06; medical, $397.27; movies, $1,132.92; officials, $729.80; scouting, $422.49; transportation, $1,098.11; utilities, $804.91; reconditioning, $2,909.04; employees, $1,590.32; field, $722.47; laundry and cleaning, $795.14; clinic, $240.77; ticket refund, $22.50; phone, $95.80; stationery, $25.75; final payment on concession stand, $441.81; general admission tickets, $199.71; guarantees, $3,850; insurance, $1,662; books, $32.06; newsletter, $40.52; printing of ticket applications, $47.56; printing of season tickets, $350; petty cash, $55; professional service $1; check book $6.50; letter awards $187.92; punched cards, $28.55.

Receipts included ticket sales, $20,211.75; season tickets, $5,313.05; insurance, $195; East Junior-Westgate game, $198.85 and guarantees, $3,000.

THE EAST Liverpool - Wellsville football series, renewed in 1963 after a lapse of 10 years, appeared to be ended again.

The Board gave Athletic Director Bob McNea permission to schedule another opponent to replace Wellsville on Oct. 8 of the 1965 season. The two-year home-and-home contract with Wellsville ended after last year. The Potters defeated Wellsville in both contests during the renewed series.

McNea said he had made contacts with Erie and Toledo schools.

The question of hiring out-of-state officials for basketball and football was raised by Richard Smith. Sam Brown declared a motion to have only Ohio officials on the list sent to opposing schools.

The motion passed on a 6-2 vote with Harry McConville and Pelini dissenting.

2nd Race Track Tax Bill Offered In West Virginia

CHARLESTON—Del. B. Noel Poling, R-Jackson, today introduced in the House a race track tax bill similar — but not identical to the one introduced in the Senate last week by Sen. William Tompos, D-Hancock.

Like the Tompos bill, Poling's would raise the tax on pari-mutuel betting at horse tracks from 5 1/2 to 6 per cent; repeal a less costly alternative method of computing the tax at tracks where the daily average betting total does not exceed $150,000, and set the license fee at $500 per day of racing for all tracks. The fee is now $250 for tracks of less than a mile, $500 for a mile or longer.

The Police bill — unlike the Tompos measure — would let the tracks continue to retain the "breakage" — the odd cents left over after betting payoffs are computed to the nearest dime. Tompos would turn the "breakage" over to the state.

Poling — but not Tompos — would repeal the present provision under which money from unredeemed pari-mutuel tickets goes to owners and breeders. Under Poling's bill, this money would revert to the state general revenue fund.

Oak Glen Hosts Strong Madonna Five

Pittsburgh Team Puts 13-1 Mark Before Unbeaten Midland Tonight

There will not be a battle of the undefeated when Midland meets Pittsburgh Canevin tonight at Midland in an exhibition game.

Midland remains unbeaten with a 13-0 mark but Canevin, in a struggle for first place in the Catholic Class A League in Pittsburgh, dropped a 73-42 contest to unbeaten South Hills Catholic Sunday.

THE LOSS was the first for Canevin which had chalked up 13 straight victories before bowing to South.

Star of the South team is Frank Gustine, Jr., son of the former Pittsburgh Pirate third baseman. He scored 16 points against South Hills Sunday.

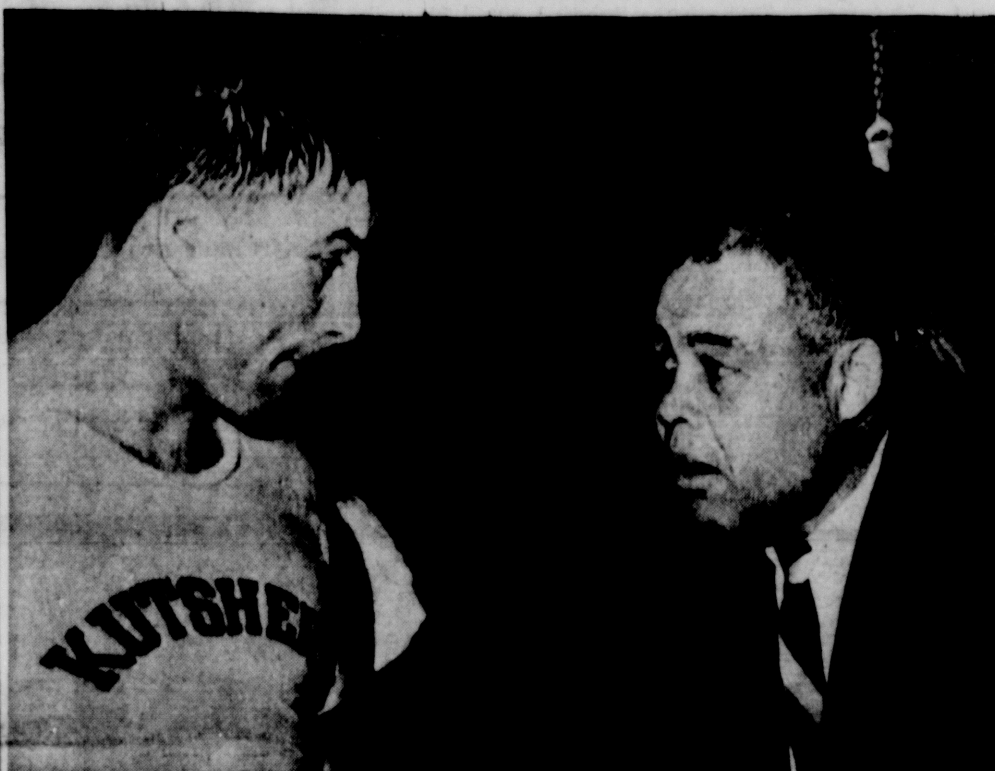

The contest with Canevin is one of two exhibition games this week for the Leopards. Midland will fly for a game with Liberty High School of Bethlehem.

THE GAME is a part of charity doubleheader Saturday night. The Midland squad consisting of 12 players and a manager plus Hank Kuzma and his assistant will leave Friday morning from Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

Midland will hold a practice session Friday before meeting Bethlehem in the second game Saturday at 8:15. In the first game, Bethlehem Catholic will battle Fountain Hill. That contest is set for 6:30.

A LIGHT schedule tonight shows only one other game on the card but an important one for Oak Glen. Weirton Madonna invades the Oak Glen gym where the Golden Bears will be out to avenge an earlier loss to the Madonna five which sports a 9-1 record.

Western Beaver will play Wednesday night in an exhibition contest at Ambridge St. Veronica.

Maravich Very Unhappy

Biology Sends Wolfpack's Scoring Leader To Bench

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

North Carolina State's Press Maravich has to be the unhappy winning basketball coach in the land today. And you can blame it on biology.

State, unbeaten in 10 games since Maravich replaced ailing Everett Case as head coach early last month, has lost scoring leader Larry Lakin for the remainder of the season.

Lakin, who was averaging 18.1 points per game, flunked a biology exam last week and was ruled ineligible Monday.

The Wolfpack got by little Centenary College 79-64 Monday night at Raleigh, N.C., without Lakin. Pete Coker picked up the slack with 21 points and 14 rebounds as the winners ran their over-all record to 11-1.

But Lakin undoubtedly will be missed when State resumes its campaign in the rugged Atlantic Coast Conference Saturday at Virginia. The Wolfpack shares the ACC lead with Duke at 5-1.

"Lakin was the heart of the club, the vital cog," lamented Maravich. "Now it means switching around to find a replacement."

Multiply Maravich's miseries by three and you have the sentiments of Wichita coach Gary Thompson. The fifth-ranked Shockers lost 6-foot-10 pivot Nate Bowman and reserve center Bob Powers via the academic route Monday. All-America Dave Stallworth's eligibility expires after Saturday's Missouri Valley Conference game against Louisville.

With all of the top ten teams idle Monday, interest centered on the tight Southeastern Conference race and Minnesota's Big Ten visit to Purdue.

SEC pacesetter Vanderbilt boosted its league mark to 5-0 with an 84-70 victory over slump-ridden Mississippi. Clyde Lee, the Commodores' 6-9 center, amassed 22 points and 24 rebounds while teammate Bob Grace poured 19 of his 21 points in the first half. The loss was Ole Miss' 12th straight.

Surprising Florida continued to push the Commodores. The Gators, who beat Kentucky last Saturday, trimmed Alabama 67-51 at Tuscaloosa, Ala., for a 6-1 conference mark. Brooks Henderson led a balanced Florida attack with 12 points. The Gators are 12-3 over-all.

Louie Dampier fired 24 points as Kentucky rebounded with a 102-82 victory over Georgia. Pat Riley added 21 points and John Adams, 20, for the Wildcats, now 9-7 on the season and 4-3 in league play.

Georgia Tech nipped Mississippi State 75-73 in another SEC game. Auburn dropped a 58-55 nonconference decision to Florida State, which went into a deep freeze at Tallahassee for the last 13 1/2 minutes.

Minnesota climbed into a third-place tie with Illinois, behind Michigan and Iowa, in the Big Ten, slipping by Purdue 85-81 at Lafayette, Ind. The Boiler-makers, 1-3 in the conference, ripped off 14 points in the final 96 seconds after Minnesota, 3-1, had run up an 83-67 lead. The losers' Dave Schellhase topped all scorers with 32 points.

Bob Ziegler scored eight points in the last two minutes as Iowa State rallied from 17 points down and defeated Big Eight rival Oklahoma 87-81.

Jaycees Set Tourney At Wellsville

The Wellsville Jaycees have announced the dates for the annual basketball tournament to be staged at the Beacom Memorial gym.

Nonpareil Will Map Plans For Tournament

Plans for the forthcoming junior basketball tournament will be discussed at a meeting of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club Wednesday night at 8 at the YMCA. Frank Chan, head basketball coach, will be the guest speaker.

The tournament will run six nights beginning March 29 through April 3.

Auto Body Supply of East Liverpool is the defending champ by virtue of a 99-97 victory over World Book Store in last year's tourney.

Anyone interested in entering a team can contact Nunzio Lombardozzi at L.E. 2-4331, Jack Call at L.E. 2-3155 or Frank Fusco at L.E. 2-1844. Entries also can be mailed to Wellsville Jaycees, P.O. Box 273.

Beaver Local's Freshmen Defeat N. Lima, 59-36

Beaver Local's freshman team, off to a slow start, bounced back to hand North Lima a 59-36 setback Monday at the Beaver gym.

Trailing 10-6 at the end of the first period, Beaver Local went in front, 25-17 at halftime. Dennis Klembara paced the young Beavers with 17 points while 7 other Beaver players scored 6 each. Kurtz led North Lima with 17.

The victory brought Beaver Local's record to 4-3.

Lakeside Paces Class A

Canton Retains Top Spot, But Lima Runs Close 2nd

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's scholastic basketballers breezed into the pre-tournament stretch drive today, with Canton McKinley clinging to the Class AA top rating in The Associated Press poll, and Lakeside the leader in Class A.

They've held those spots since the ratings were launched three weeks ago, but some of the challengers are creeping up.

Big change in Class AA this week found Newark's Wildcats slipping from fourth to ninth-place after a resounding 75-62 loss to Chillicothe which smeared an 11-game winning streak.

Lima Shawnee, 73-43 winner over Van Wert, and 81-67 over Fremont Ross, held second place, and Urbana remained in third after trouncing Bexley 84-47 and Grandview 102-49. The lone personnel shift came as Bellevue, 10th last week, dropped to 11th and Mansfield St. Peter moved up a notch to fill out the elite list.

Ottoville was the only Class A casualty, skidding to 12th from sixth place, and unbeaten Minster climbed from among the also-rans into ninth position.

The Class AA top 10 have a combined won-lost record of 116-6, half of the group being unbeaten. In Class A the overall mark is 118-8, with only four unsullied.

From here and there: Jerry Turner, 6-7 senior center of tenth-ranked Class A Albany of Athens County, is averaging 26. Tom Heckman of Ottawa-Glandorf has a 29.5 mark for 13 games.

Delphos St. John has lost three games, but plays mostly Class AA schools. One defeat was at the hands of Lima Shawnee, which beats everyone.

In the last five games with Cuyahoga Falls, Massillon led three times at the end of three quarters, was tied at the half in another, and led 32-31 at halftime Friday—but has lost all five. The latest was 71-62, with Larry Vucovich, 6-4 senior pivot, scoring 27 points, picking off 22 rebounds, and going 5-for-5 at the free throw line. John Muhlbach, Massillon's all-Ohio football center, led the Tigers with 23 points and 11 straight one-pointers.

The boys are getting pretty good at the foul line, Dave Nelson of Dayton Colonel White making 30 in a row, and Jay Shoup of Marion Catholic has an unfinished string of 20.

Portsmouth's all-Ohio Larry Hise scored 36 points Saturday as the Trojans avenged their lone loss by turning back Lancaster 83-64. Aaron Adams of New Boston scored 28 and 34 in two starts last week, but lost one to Class AA Waverly by 72-70.

Hamilton Garfield and Hamilton Taft are one-two in the rugged Greater Ohio League. Garfield swamped Springfield South, a two-time state champion, 92-75 with Bill Evans, a soph, making his first seven shots from the field.

Mansfield Senior's nine-game victory streak was snapped 77-65 by Canton Lincoln, Fredericktown, after losing three of the first four, has won nine in a row.

UCLA Stands Pat In Latest Floor Rating

UCLA's basketball squad spent last week concerned with examinations and the mid-season break instead of opposing teams but it didn't make any difference to the voters in the weekly Associated Press basketball poll.

The panel of sportscasters and writers gave the defending national champions 29 of the 36 first-place votes cast and a 45-point margin over second-place Michigan in the weekly ratings.

The Bruins, with a 13-1 record after losing their opener to Illinois, resume play Friday against Iowa.

Runner-up Michigan whacked Purdue 103-84 in its only start last week and ran its record to 11-2. The Wolverines got two first-place votes and accumulated 302 points in the balloting, which awards 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc.

Third-place St. Joseph's got one vote for the top spot on the basis of its 15-1 record. The Hawks beat Penn 88-72 last week.

Unbeaten Providence, which won its 12th straight against Seton Hall last week, got four first place ballots and jumped two spots to fourth.

The Top Ten, with total points:

1. UCLA	347
2. Michigan	302
3. St. Joseph's, Pa.	240
4. Providence	209
5. Wichita	194
6. Davidson	140
7. St. John's, N.Y.	123
8. San Francisco	114
9. Indiana	80

4 Major League Clubs Test Co-op Scouting

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Representatives of four major league clubs mapped final plans today for a co-operative scouting program keyed to eventually cut big bonuses and possibly expand minor league operations.

"You might call it the new 'eyes and ears' of the major leagues," said James A. Campbell, vice president and general manager of the Detroit Tigers, one of the participating clubs. The others are the Pittsburgh Pirates, Milwaukee Braves and the Cleveland Indians.

"The idea is not new," said Gabe Paul, president and general manager of Cleveland. "Eventually it will mean some decrease in big bonuses and expansion of baseball. We feel sure it will open the door for more boys to play major league baseball."

"Basically," added General Manager Joe L. Brown of the Pirates, "each club will continue to scout its respective areas, but instead of reports from 15 full-time scouts, each team will get reports from 60 to 76 scouts."

Brown said each club will then make its own decision on which prospect it wishes to draft. There will be three selections annually — June, September and again in January. The position in which a team finishes will determine who gets the first pick.

John McHale, president and general manager of the Braves, said the four clubs plan to test the program for a year then evaluate it. "Many other clubs are interested," he said, "but it would be unwieldy to start with more than four."

If the test operation works, the plan could be adopted by all 20 major league clubs. It has the full blessing of Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick.

Elias Aide Promoted At Virginia U.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — George Blackburn, offensive backfield coach at the University of Virginia since last spring, was promoted today to head football coach succeeding Bill Elias.

Blackburn, 51, had been heir-apparent to the position since Elias resigned Jan. 18 to become head coach at Navy. He was the only candidate seriously considered out of about 100 who applied.

Virginia Athletic Director Steve Sebo said Blackburn, former head coach at Miami of Ohio and Cincinnati, received the one-year "self-renewing, continuing appointment" usually given coaches here.

Blackburn came out of self-imposed coaching retirement a year ago to take charge of the Cavalier offense for Elias and give the team the second most productive offense in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The defense didn't match it, and Virginia finished 5-5 for the season.

The new Virginia coach said he was "totally elated" over his appointment. Financial details were not announced.

Namath Good After Surgery

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Jets have good news today about their $400,000 investment.

Joe Namath, the American Football League club's high-priced rookie quarterback, should be better than ever following a knee operation, Dr. James A. Nicholas said Monday.

Dr. Nicholas, the Jets' orthopedic consultant, removed torn cartilage from the Alabama passing star's right knee at Lenox Hill Hospital. He said Namath should be in excellent condition when the Jets begin training next summer.

Namath will stay in the hospital for 10 to 14 days and rest for 8 to 12 weeks before starting a series of weight-lifting exercises to strengthen the knee.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ralph D. Bowers of Roseville has been named a Republican member of the Perry County Election Board. His appointment was announced Monday by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. He succeeds Eugene Clark of Junction City who quit to become a county commissioner. Bowers will serve until Feb. 28, 1966.

Each Brown Gets $8,052 For Winning NFL Title

NEW YORK (AP) — If you had to be a loser last year, you were better off losing as a member of the Baltimore Colts than as a New York Yankee.

The Colts and Yanks both lost in championship showdowns last season—Baltimore to Cleveland in the National Football League's title game and New York to St. Louis in baseball's World Series.

Figures released by the NFL Monday showed that each Colt got $5,571.40 for losing to Cleveland. That was $262.11 more than the $5,309.29 each Yankee got after losing the Series to St. Louis.

NFL President Pete Rozelle released the figures and mailed checks to the players Monday. The game, won by Cleveland 27-0, was played before 79,544 fans at Cleveland Stadium and grossed $2,484,384—the first football game ever to gross over $2 million.

Each winning share for the Browns was worth $8,052.82—comparable to the $8,622.19 taken down by each Cardinal after winning the World Series.

Winning and losing shares both eclipsed former NFL records. The old marks were set in Chicago's Wrigley Field in 1963 when $5,801 watched the Bears whip the New York Giants 14-10. Each winning Bear that year got $5,899.77 and each losing Bear $4,218.15.

Rozelle said the Browns had split their playoff pie into 50 full shares while the Colts voted 48 shares. The names of the individuals receiving full shares were not released.

Second- and third-place teams also shared in the player pool, which included about $500,000 from television rights. The player pool in baseball's World Series does not include any TV money.

Five members of the Cardinals honored were Ken Boyer and Bill White, who shared the St. Louis' Baseball Man of the Year Award; Bob Gibson and Tim McCarver for outstanding achievement in baseball, and Mike Shannon, the city's Rookie of the Year.

Soviet Denies Violation Of Test-Ban Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union says it did not violate the limited nuclear test-ban treaty earlier this month when an underground Soviet explosion blew some radioactive material into the atmosphere.

At the time of the Jan. 15 blast, the United States detected earth shock and later radioactive materials beyond the Soviet boundary over the Sea of Japan.

A week ago Secretary of State Dean Rusk asked Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin for an explanation. He got the reply from Dobrynin in a brief meeting at the State Department Monday.

The State Department said Monday night the Soviet government had reported that the nuclear explosion was carried out "deep under ground on Jan. 15 and that some radioactive debris leaked into the atmosphere."

However, the oral reply states that the amount is so insignificant that the Soviet government excludes the possibility of a violation of the limited test-ban treaty.

The Soviet report that the material "leaked" into the air was taken by officials here as confirmation of their estimate a week ago that the presence of radioactive debris in the air was a result of an accident. In other words, they did not think that Soviets had intended such a result.

The State Department declined to make any comment on the message from Moscow or say whether it was satisfactory so far as the issue of the treaty violation is concerned. Pending receipt of the reply, the United States had not formally charged a violation. But officials here had taken the position that any underground blast by any country which caused radioactive debris beyond its boundaries was in fact technical violation of the treaty.

The treaty prohibits any nuclear explosion on the part of a member country in the air, in outer space or under water. It also bans underground explosions if they cause "radioactive debris to be present outside the territorial limits of the state."

Koppers Co. Reports Record Sales In 1964

Total sales of Koppers Co., Inc. in 1964 were $334.8 million, a record high for any year in the firm's history, and 14 per cent above 1963 sales of $292.8 million, officials announced at Pittsburgh.

Net income for the year totaled $9,950,000 equivalent after payment of preferred dividends to $4.21 per share of common stock. Earnings were substantially higher than the $7,281,000, or $3.01 per share, earned by Koppers in 1963.

Fred C. Foy, board chairman, and F. L. Byrom, president, said "the outlook for the future continues promising. We expect to report further gains in sales and earnings during 1965." They noted that the Company's backlog of orders on hand at the end of 1964 totaled $150 million, up from $141 million at the beginning of the year. Koppers has a facility at Newell, which has been inoperative.

Salem Autoist Seeks Upset Of Conviction

LISBON — Gene Daniel Boals, 34, of Salem R.D. 4, has appealed his conviction of driving while intoxicated to the State Supreme Court.

Boals was indicted by the April 1963 Grand Jury and pleaded innocent but was found guilty by a jury Oct. 10, 1963. The court fined him $500, sentenced him to six months in the County Jail and suspended his driver's license for six months.

The court suspended half the fine and five months of jail sentence on good behavior, but stayed the execution of sentence when Boals said he would appeal.

On Nov. 28, 1964, the 7th District Court of Appeals confirmed the Common Pleas Court's verdict and Boals is now taking it to the state court, Common Pleas Court was advised.

West Virginia Bill To Urge Sweepstakes

CHARLESTON — If Del. Jesse Barker, D-Kanawha, gets his way, West Virginia will go into the gambling business for the betterment of its schools.

Barker says he intends to introduce a bill in the legislature calling for a statewide referendum on establishing a state-operated sweepstakes.

He says the proposal would raise $15 million to $20 million a year for schools.

The sweepstakes would be patterned after the recently established New Hampshire lottery, Barker said. Tickets for the sweepstakes would be sold in state liquor stores with $400,000 offered in prize money.

Long Distance Rate Cut Given Approval

HARRISBURG — The Public Utility Commission approved Monday petitions by the Bell Telephone Co. and 80 independent companies to reduce long-distance toll charges in the state.

The reduction, to be effective Feb. 1, will result in an annual savings to state subscribers of between $300,000 and $400,000 on calls between points in the state, the PUC said.

A reduction in interstate rates becoming effective the same date will mean a savings of about $3 million each year to state subscribers, according to the PUC statement.

Four Events Added

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Four new events have been added to membership in the Ohio Festivals and Events Association. The new festivals, bring the group's membership to 27, are the Great Lakes Shakespeare Festival at Lakewood, near Cleveland; Carnation Festival at Alliance, Lake Festival at Celina and River Days Festival at Portsmouth.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 26, the 26th day of 1965. There are 339 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1830, a crowded Senate heard Daniel Webster make his great oration. Defending the union, he uttered these words, "Liberty and union, now and forever, one and inseparable."

On this date

In 1815, Thomas Jefferson's 7,000-volume library was bought by the government as a start for the Library of Congress.

In 1837, Michigan became the 26th state to be admitted to the Union.

In 1880, Gen. Douglas MacArthur was born.

In 1917, the Tank Corps of the U.S. Army was created.

In 1947, singer-actress Grace Moore was killed in a plane crash at Copenhagen, Denmark.

Junior Editors Quiz on MARS

Is there life on Mars?

It's likely there are mosses such as these--

POLAR CAP

GREEN OR BROWN

the famous "canals"

REDDISH COLOR

and unlikely there are people--

yet who knows for sure?

QUESTION: Do you think there could be life on Mars?

ANSWER: From what the astronomers and scientists say, it seems there could be life on Mars. Mars is known to have an atmosphere, although it has less oxygen and water than our own. However, Mars does seem to have some water, for the white polar caps which grow larger in winter and smaller in summer are regarded as being ice or snow. There are blue green spaces on the planet which grow stronger with one season and lighter with another. This is the way plants act, so many experts think there is some kind of plant life on Mars, even though it may be only humble vegetation such as moss. The strange straight lines on this planet's surface have been thought by many to be man-made canals, but most scientists seem to doubt this, considering them to be some kind of natural feature, perhaps rivers. Earth's atmosphere is thick enough to protect from too much sun and also to hold some warmth during the night. The thin Martian atmosphere cannot do this. The nights would be so extremely cold that men could probably not exist, even if some simple plants might be able to live.

FOR YOU TO DO: Even if the scientists say "no" about human life on Mars, many people keep thinking "perhaps..." At any rate, it's fun to dream up strange Martian little people. Don't take our artist's funny little people seriously, but do have fun trying to draw some of your own.

Frank Salsman of Prattburg, N.Y., win's today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win the weekly grand prize of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm ashamed to have to ask you such a ridiculous question but I'm at the end of my rope with this nut who is my husband.

Four months ago I gave birth to twin boys. Jake (my husband) was so proud he gave cigars to strangers on the street. Two weeks ago Jake got it into his head that the dark twin is his but the light twin belongs to someone else.

The twins look nothing alike but this does not mean they had different fathers, does it? My family is light haired and blue-eyed, and our 6-year-old son is a picture of my father. One of the twins resembles that boy.

I have searched through two medical books but I don't understand the language. I'm trying to prove to my husband that it is impossible for twins to have different fathers.

Can you help me? — ABOUT TO FLIP.

Dear Lid: It's possible for twins to be fathered by separate males but such cases are so rare they are considered medical phenomena.

The fact that the twins do not look alike means only that they are fraternal, and not identical, twins. Your doctor can (and should) explain the difference to your husband. I hope my reply will shut his mouth until you can get him to the doctor.

Aid For Deaf

Dear Ann: Millions of people in this country share the misery of the hard-of-hearing woman who wrote to you. Those folks suffer no physical pain and they don't look different from other people, but often they are gripped by feelings of inadequacy which can be self-defeating.

A friend or relative can help by being patient and instilling confidence. When there is no such help forthcoming, the hard of hearing can embark on a program of self-help.

Hearing aids have been improved and more should be written about them. A hearing aid can be a great boost to self-confidence which has been shattered and needs to be rebuilt.

The person who is hard of hearing can develop alertness and train himself to speak carefully so his pronunciation does not deteriorate. He should be aware that family, friends and associates may not understand his problem and be willing to forgive their lack of compassion. — LONG-TIME WORKER IN THE FIELD.

Dear Worker: I, too, am a firm believer in self-help. Thank you for a letter which reflects a generous spirit and offers good advice.

Greatest Riches

Dear Ann: We have very little money but we are richer than anyone we know. Our six wonderful children are our treasure. We have plenty of nourishing food, a small farm and each child has his own warm bed.

Each night as we tuck our darlings in and kiss them good night we thank God they are safe and well. But we are saddened by the thought that all over the world little people are cold, hungry and unwanted.

We would like to help one such child, Ann, and this is where you come in. It would be no hardship to add one more to our family. Will you please send us the name of an agency or two?

We want to adopt a child or take in a child as foster parents. — ROOM FOR ONE MORE.

Dear Ones: You have found the key to contentment — giving and sharing — a priceless legacy which you are sure to hand down to your children.

Please contact the Family Service Association. They will help you.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Peace Corps Test Planned

Peace Corps placement tests will be given throughout the U.S. on Feb. 13 at 8:30 a. m., including the main Post Offices in Steubenville and Youngstown and the Canton Federal Building, the agency said today in Washington.

Applicants do not "pass" or "fail" the exam, which simply indicates where the individual's greatest potential lies, the agency said.

The Peace Corps questionnaire which must be filled out and taken to the exam, unless previously submitted, tells what an applicant has done in the past. The placement test is aimed at showing what he or she can do in the future. Applicants do not have to register for the test ahead of time.

The Peace Corps questionnaire can be found in Post Offices. On college campuses, they are available at college placement centers or the offices of Peace Corps liaison officers, who are members of the faculty or college administration. They also are available by writing the Peace Corps, Washington, D.C., 20525.

There are two parts to the Peace Corps placement test: a general aptitude test and a modern language aptitude test—for which knowledge of a foreign language is not necessary. Applicants should plan on about one and a half hours at the testing center, unless they wish to take the Spanish or French achievement test. For this optional test, another hour should be added.

No passing or failing marks are given out, nor will the applicants ever learn their scores. The results are used, with the character references and questionnaires, to estimate the applicant's potential for completing the intensive training program and his ability to be an effective volunteer overseas.

Scranton To Ask Old Mine Funds For Appalachia

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton will ask the Legislature to appropriate $5.5 million this year to accelerate abandoned mine work under the federal Appalachia program, it was reported Monday night.

The request will accompany Scranton's budget proposals for the next fiscal year, but his budget aides said the money would be used as soon as available.

If approved the request would raise to $6.3 million the money which would be available this year to match federal funds if they became available prior to July 1.

An additional $1 million will be asked in the 1965-66 fiscal year, the governor's office said.

The state appropriations for this purpose will generate matching federal funds of $15 million for 1964-65 and $3 million for 1965-66, the budget office said.

Archbishop Of Baltimore Among 27 New Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI named 27 new Roman Catholic cardinals Monday, including three from Communist lands and one from the United States.

This raised the membership of the sacred college to 103, the largest in history.

Archbishop Lawrence Joseph Shehan of Baltimore, Md., was the only U.S. prelate among the new cardinals, the first named by Pope Paul since he became pontiff in June 1963.

They will formally be elevated to the purple at a consistory Feb. 22.

Pope Paul's nominations were in line with policies that have become evident in his reign.

He has opened a dialogue with Communist countries while continuing to denounce Marxist ideology. Today he named the first three Roman Catholic cardinals from Communist countries since a 1953 consistory held by Pope Pius XII.

One of the nominations — of Josef Beran of Prague, Czechoslovakia — was a clear challenge to Red officials who have restricted his activities.

Other new cardinals included Maurice Roy, archbishop of Quebec, Canada; Franjo Seper, archbishop of Zagreb, Yugoslavia; and Josef Slipyi, archbishop of Lvov, Poland, and primate of Ukrainian Catholics.

The late consistory for the creation of cardinals was held on March 19, 1962, when Pope John XXIII elevated 10 men to the sacred college and brought its membership to 87, the largest in history.

Since then 11 cardinals have died.

The elevation of Archbishop Shehan gives the United States six members of the College of Cardinals. Baltimore is the oldest Roman Catholic Diocese in the United States.

The other American members are Francis Spellman of New York, James F. McIntyre of Los Angeles, Richard J. Cushing of Boston, Albert G. Meyer of Chicago and Joseph E. Ritter of St. Louis.

Pope Paul's nominations reflected two aspects of his reign — interest toward Catholics who live among the Orthodox of the East, and concern toward Roman Catholics in Communist lands.

His nomination of the three patriarchs was clearly a move to honor the Catholics of the East.

In The Old American Tradition—
